GAYNOR AND DIX MEET.

Hold Conference This Afternoon On Senatorship.

New York, Feb. 13.—Governor Dix and Mayor Gaynor will hold a conference here this afternoon.

This is the only positive bit of news bearing directly or indirectly on the senatorial situation which came out in New York yesterday. The meeting will take place at the mayor's instance, says the governor, and the governor has no advance knowledge of what the subject matter of the conversation will be.

Governor Dix said last evening that, so far as he knows, the senatorial deadlock remains absolute. No overtures have been made to him since he came to town in favor of any compromise candidate. He had no political callers yesterday and the only appointment he had, barring a social dinner engagement to-night is the one with the mayor.

Charles F. Murphy passed the afternoon at home and did not go to Good Ground or to St. James, to see the mayor, as had been thought possible. Mr. Murphy was asked about a report that S. Stanwood Menken, Thomas Mott Osborne, William Temple Emmett of the Shepard camp, and Frederick S. Condit, the well-known lawyer, were busy setting a back fire behind his district lines.

"Such an attempt," said Murphy, "wouldn't even be interesting."

William F. Sheehan had no meeting with any of the central figures in the senatorial situation and denied that it had in any way changed. He still expects to win.

Mayor Gaynor spent the day at St. James and returned to his Brooklyn house yesterday morning. He saw none of the leaders during the day.

The governor went to church yesterday morning at Grace church, Protestant Episcopal, drove from there to Child's welfare exhibit and then motored out to the Bronx park.

NEW YORK POLICE TEMPEST.

Clash Between the Commissioner and the Head of the Detective Bureau.

New York, Feb. 13.—There's a tempest in the New York police department, all because of a clash between Police Commissioner Cropsy and Deputy Commissioner Flynn, head of the detective bureau. Chief Flynn left the federal secret service to head the local detective bureau and has been active in breaking up Black Hand gangs.

The trouble started when the former secret service agent refused point blank to give Commissioner Cropsy a list of the men he had on secret assignments and the nature of their work. Chief Detective Flynn told Commissioner Cropsy that this would result in nothing short of bodily harm to some of his men, not to mention the possible frustration of his plans to corral the Italian black-maulers, kidnapers and criminals of other nationalities. Commissioner Cropsy maintained that as head of the department he was entitled to the information. His deputy replied that his appointment to the head of the detective bureau was a personal matter with Mayor Gaynor and that he accepted the appointment with the understanding that he was to have carte blanche and was not to be interfered with in his detective work.

WAITSFIELD.

Mrs. Etta Ramsdell is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Baird.

Among those on the sick list the past week are: Mrs. F. S. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Billings, C. J. Greene, John P. Brown, Mrs. Hugh Baird and A. S. Howe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Howd returned from their wedding trip last Friday and will make their home with Mrs. Savage, Mrs. Howd's mother. A reception will be given them at the vestry of the Congregational church next Thursday evening, to which all are cordially invited.

Last Thursday, February 9, being the 68th birthday of Mrs. James Baird, jr., a goodly number of her friends called on her to present their good wishes. Dinner, including a birthday cake, was served, and all enjoyed the occasion very much.

Mad River Valley grange will meet in the vestry of the Congregational church next Friday evening. Following is the program: Duet, Little Skinner, Marion Neill; piano solo, Marion Neill; solo, Sed Newcomb; reading, Miss Stella Huntley; solo, Harold Wallis. Discussion of the question, "Resolved, That the development of our public school as an institution has not kept pace with the improvements of the industries of today."

sponse, J. B. Thompson and G. W. Wallis responded to calls for short speeches, after which the company was invited into the dining-room, where the tables were well filled with good things, including oysters, doughnuts, cake and coffee, ice cream and cake, fruit, etc., to which all present did ample justice. After supper, the older members of the company retired to their homes, while "young America" and a few "old Americas" enjoyed dancing until the "wee sma' hours of the morning." Everyone had a good time, and the occasion will long be remembered as one of the bright spots in the social history of the town. Much credit is due Mr. and Mrs. Smith for their kindness in inviting the public to share their joy and hospitality. Among those present from out of town were noticed Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Eaton and S. W. Livingston of Waterbury, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bell and niece of Northfield, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bulkley, T. J. Ferris and Kelly brothers and Miss Kelly of Moretown, and a large number from Fayston, including Mr. Smith's grandmother, who sat at the table with him and is now over 83 years of age. Music for the occasion was furnished by Gen. Patterson and sister, Jessie, the Baird boys and Mr. Goss of Moretown.

BETHEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burnett of Northampton, Mass., are visiting friends in town.

Mr. John Wheeler is visiting her brother, Mark Mudgett, in Pomfret for a few days.

Mrs. George Abbott was recently called to Somerville, Mass., by the illness of her daughter, Miss Mollie Abbott.

Miss Alice Bradley, who has been with her mother, Mrs. Cora Bradley, six weeks, has returned to Springfield, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Newman have gone to Redstone, N. H., where Mr. Newman has permanent employment as a stone cutter.

Marion Grant, the diphtheria patient, is now doing well, but her sister, Ismah Grant, is seriously ill with inflammatory rheumatism.

Dentley Fisher, who has been several years in Boston, has sold his lunch business there and is here visiting his sister, Mrs. Laura Williams.

MANSEAU-GUILLETTE.

Wedding Was Celebrated at St. Francis Xavier Church in Winoski.

Winoski, Feb. 13.—The marriage was solemnized at four o'clock at St. Francis Xavier church of Miss Anna Guillette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Guillette, and George Manseau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxim Manseau of Chicago. The bride entered the church to the strains of the wedding march played by the organist, Miss Anna Duprat. They were attended by Louis Guillette of Barre and Alphonse Langlois, also of Barre, brother and brother-in-law, respectively. The Rev. J. F. Audet, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. The ushers were cousins Eugene and William Manseau. The bride was handsomely attired in white albatross and wore a black willow plume hat. After the services at the church, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents of East Center street. The happy pair left on the 4:40 o'clock train last evening for Chicago, where they will make their home at 16 Jackson boulevard. The groom's parents prior to 20 years ago were residents of Winoski and have a large acquaintance here, the groom receiving much of his education in the local schools. He is now engaged in the contracting business. The bride for the past six years has conducted a millinery store on East Allen street. She received many gifts of cut glass, silverware, linen and gold pieces.

U. S. Will Now Own Its Own Embassies. Washington, Feb. 13.—The House bill, providing $500,000 a year for the erection of buildings for American embassies and consulates in foreign countries, was passed by the Senate Saturday. The bill was passed over a protest by Senator Clapp.
